It's impossible to have a short in your GP harness, because there's nothing to short. There's only the one conductor in there. It might be an open circuit, but I'd venture that the harness is more likely to be damaged by ham-handed mechanics than by a bad GP, since a bad GP will draw LESS current, not more.

You don't need to remove the compressor outlet hose at this point, but you can see here that I have. Note the oily discharge that has been building up for some time; this can be a symptom of a problem with the turbo, but in this case it appears to be simply the accumulation of oil through the crankcase ventilation system (which is directed into the intake tract just ahead of the turbocharger ...
