The video above shows you how to replace the battery in your 2008 Dodge Charger. We recommend changing the battery in Dodges every 4 years. Although some batteries last much longer, most batteries begin breaking down chemically after four years, so you could experience dimmer headlights and other negative effects before you have a dead battery in your Charger that you need to replace.

I have a question. I just got a new oil pressure sensor put in and my light still pops on. It blinks really fast this time instead of staying on. It only does this at slow speeds or stop. My oil level is also fine. Other than it being annoying should I worry? I'm planning a road trip and don't want to break down across the u.s.
